Project Description
Viejas Mountain Reservoirs Refurbishment Project (JN219017)

This project consists of re-coating two existing potable water reservoirs district owns and operates called Viejas Mountain Reservoir #6 and Viejas Mountain North Reservoir #7. The project site is in Alpine in East San Diego County, California. Specific project site is at the intersection of Anderson Road and Brauer Point in Alpine

Work to be performed includes:

- Rehabilitation and application of new internal and external coating systems for the existing steel water reservoir
- Installation of new cathodic protection header wires and hardware inside the reservoirs
- Retrofit of roof vent, peripheral vents, and CP access ports

These activities are essential for the maintenance and upkeep of the existing reservoirs to continue to provide reliable water services to the respective service area customers. No lead is contained in the existing coating systems. Construction specifications for the reservoirs require the use of total containment system for removal of the exterior coatings. A dust control system will be used to eliminate any particulate emissions for removal of the interior coatings. All construction activities will be located within the property limits and in a previously disturbed area. The property is surrounded by homes, only temporary construction-related impacts are anticipated and no other environmental impacts are anticipated.
